OUR OWN PROVINCE.

A Fine Field for Investments and Enterprise, Energy and Intelligence.

Restless Activity—The Labor Market and High Wages—New Element.

(From an Occasional Correspondent.)

Rumors of depression in trade seem to gain prevalence amongst the narrow-minded and others of a class who have hitherto obtained easy livings with but little exertion or competition to contend against. In the past this province has been a good field for the few who lived to it long enough to regard it as their personal property, viewing with alarm any subdivision of power or prestige, which increased numbers would wrench from their grasp. This conservatism, however, must undergo a change of a most radical character, both socially and politically. We cannot invite the world by pamphlets and flaming placards to take an interest in our country and assist us in developing its resources and restrict them to merely subordinate position, neither can we expect to form a joint stock company of the country and prohibit the shareholders from voting. If energy and intelligence of a high order elect to join us in our undertaking, we must give that precedence to qualification which changed conditions demand; and we must also learn to co-operate with the newer elements infused into our moribund existence or of amalgamation unworthy of our duties as citizens and pioneer advocates. The old blood must co-mingle with the new or be absorbed by it. British Columbia for British Columbians is good enough for a local cry with prejudicial motives for its origin and ultimate end; but we want something more than that, simply a home for all men, be they black or white, simple or wise, as long as they recognize the laws of order and morality. Equalization of values will most decidedly alter the financial condition of many people, and place the last first on the list of future prosperity and fame. But what of that? If A is not king, B will be, and what is the difference to the great bulk of the people, since they have something to worship, be it ever so small or ethereal. Our future population will be drawn chiefly from eastern Canada, filtering through the country from the Northwest Territories, composed of

RETIRE FROM THE CONTEST

RESTLESS AND ACTIVE MINDS,

nibbling up all advantages within their reach. Necessitous circumstances will also increase their inventive faculties and increase competition in every branch of business. Labor will be a glut in the market, and the necessaries of life will depreciate correspondingly. While I am on this subject I might in my opinion state what I deem are a few of the erroneous impressions which govern trade and the employment of labor. By decreasing the price of labor the manufacturer supposes that he is increasing his profits; whereas a little reflection would cure him of the mistake. High wages increase the purchasing power of labor and consequently create a brisk demand, not only for the necessaries of life but even for luxuries. By lowering the price of labor with over-competition we lessen its purchasing power and glut the market with over-production, "killing the goose which lays the golden egg" for mere temporary purposes of gain. It will also be admitted, that on the completion of the C.P.R., and the settlement of the long delayed question of the

TERMINUS ON THE PACIFIC COAST,

that a new and formidable rival to Victoria's commercial operations will be established, backed with all the influences of a gigantic undertaking. The east coast and northwest trade, so long the exclusive property of this city will become a scene of commercial rivalry with all the advantages of cheap transit and other favorable conditions to support it.

A strong Canadian influence, which has never been courted in Victoria, will concentrate its energies at that point and work with redoubled energy to make its operations successful.

THE YOUNG CANADIAN SPIRIT, which worked such wonders in the Northwest, will form the important factor in the undertaking and resound from a fossil element a country worthy the efforts of all good men. A solid and progressive spirit which marks the character of the young colonist everywhere will reduce legislation to practical purposes and make the country desirable for the mixed elements which will claim it as their own. Admitted that this rivalry will exist on our eastern frontier, what are we doing to build up a western trade which must remain exclusively our own? Simply nothing! Where are the minds to grasp this new idea and yet most important duty? Why, nowhere! OBSERVER.

The Wool Crop.

The Ontario and Quebec woolen mills are elated at the prospect of finding a new field for producing wool in the Northwest and this province. Reference has already been made in these columns to the fact that recently a large purchase of wool was made at Calgary by Mr. Hallam, of Toronto, and that Senator Cochrane had sent a season's clip from his ranche to the east. The Toronto Monetary Times refers to the wool as a medium quality, and says it can be sold in that market at a price about midway between that of our ordinary fleece and Southdown fleece. Mr. Hallam paid a visit last month to the ranches at Calgary and beyond, and is eloquent as to the future of that country as a grazing ground. "From the mountains to Medicine Hat, 210 miles," said Mr. Hallam, "grass and for 150 miles this side of the Hat, is the finest grazing country in the world for cattle, horses and sheep. The production of wool in that vicinity promises to increase, as they are doubling up their sheep, and if they take pains to protect them and their lambs there is assuredly a great future for the industry." The specimen of wool to which we have referred was the product of Montana sheep. Bearing in mind the character of wool of which eastern mills of late years require an increasing quantity, we should think that by the use of a pure-bred Merino buck on Montana ewes, our breeders may produce a cross the wool from which will find a ready market in Ontario and Quebec, and fully remunerate the grower. Furthermore, every pound of the description first mentioned will displace a pound which we must now bring across the ocean.

MARINE ACCIDENT.

The "Quincy" Strikes upon a Rock and Sinks.

Between 10 and 11 o'clock on Sunday, as the steamer City of Quincy was going from La Conner to Seattle, she struck upon a rock about one and one-half miles from the shore, near Oak Harbor. She immediately began to fill with water, and she was run upon the beach. There were aboard about sixty-five passengers, among whom order was preserved as far as possible and a panic averted. The steamer Susie came from Coupeville and took a part of the passengers and the Munroe took the remainder, and a cargo of oats which was aboard the Quincy. No one was injured by the accident. Captain Cushman was in command of the vessel when she struck. He was going the usual route of the Washington and although he knew of the presence of the rock he did not think it was so near the surface. The Quincy had her bottom partially stove in. The exact extent of her injuries is not at present known. Steamer M. K. Merwin will leave this evening to bring her to Seattle for repairs. The Quincy is owned by the Washington Steamboat and Transportation company. She is valued at between $6000 and $7000.

AUSTRALIAN COLONIES

To be Reached via Canada—An Important Future Element.

An Annual Subsidy of $350,000—British Columbia's Position.

The Montreal Herald says: There is more in the matter of the Hon. Mr. Baker's departure from South Australia for London on the subject of a mail service to the Australasian colonies than at first sight appears. There is in it the very important element of the possibility of securing for Canada the transport of the Australian mail, or, at least, a division of it with the P. and O. Company, who now carry it via the Suez Canal. This is the situation; the Australasian colonies between them pay the Pacific Mail Steamship Company an annual subsidy of $350,000 for carrying the mails between certain Australian ports and San Francisco. The contract will expire in November, and the colonies refuse to continue the subsidy unless the United States government will join in paying it. The latter refuses to do so, and the P.M.S.S. Co. are accordingly preparing to abandon the service at the beginning of November. There are employed, two of which, the Zealandia and the Australia, will probably be for disposal when the present contract terminates. Of course, there are several competitors for this trade and one company has already despatched an agent to New South Wales and New Zealand to negotiate with the governments of those colonies. If possible, this service should be secured for Canada. The Australian mails can be carried more quickly via the Canadian Pacific railroad than by San Francisco, and the British government might probably be induced to avail themselves of the route, if not entirely at least in division with the P. and O. Co. This subsidy, together with that of the Australian colonies, would secure as competition from San Francisco would be out of the question. Besides the carriage of the mail there is a good trade for the line and a yearly increasing passenger traffic. But it looks as if immediate action were necessary. The agent who has gone to Australia from the Oceanic Steamship Company, will not of course, be able to make much progress in his negotiations until the result of Mr. Baker's visit to England is known, and this gentleman is still on his way. Before the present contract is at an end the C. P. R. will be open from ocean to ocean, and it is reasonable to suppose that, other things being equal, a preference would be shown for a Canadian route.

THREE SHIPS AT PRESENT

THE TRADE TO CANADA,

COWICHAN NEWS ITEMS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Fires are still raging between Cowichan and Nanaimo, making travel almost impossible.

The Cowichan and Chemainus rivers are almost dry. Bridge construction ought to proceed rapidly; but fishing is useless in either.

The North Cowichan municipality proposes to surrender their letter-patent, as it is generally considered that the government, instead of supporting municipalities does all it can to spend money outside the same. Witness South Cowichan, where about 9-10ths of the settlers are either road bosses or employed on the roads.

It will be interesting to compare the voters' list with the items expended in this district, and we trust some member will call for the names of such voters who have not received government money.

A large amount of money is being expended on the roads, but this is the only district in which logs are allowed to run at large. The officials who are appointed by the C. C. of L. & W., may not take notice of the damage done by them as possibly the pigs are owned by a voter and an election is not far off.

Cowichan wharf is a place that no respectable settler visits if he can possibly avoid, the amount of drunkenness and fighting there is simply frightful. There is a member of the provincial police in the neighborhood, but he being appointed by the member for the district (the C. C. of L. & W.) must be careful not to do anything that may lose a vote. In fact, public money is expended and everything done with the view to votes and nothing else.

The government take great credit to themselves for their success in passing an Act of Settlement, but their present relation to the domain proves the settlement to be as far off as ever, and were it not that all new settlers are at present employed by the government in making roads to their respective claims they would have left their holdings before now.

Mrs. A. Monk has been re-appointed teacher of Quamichan school, which has progressed so favorably under her management, and it is expected that the new building will be ready for occupation by the 1st of October.

Families requiring sugar for preserving fruits, &c., can obtain it at wholesale prices at FELL & Co.'s, Fort street.

THIS DAY'S DESPATCHES

THE COMING EL DORADO.

Highly Encouraging News From the Granite Creek Mines.

Special to THE TIMES.

HOPE, Aug. 26, 1885.

The news from Granite Creek is very encouraging. All the companies that are working are making from $30 a day upwards to the hand. Men are rushing in from all directions. The creek is overrun at present, but on the North Fork, twenty miles above Granite Creek, Chinamen are making from ten to twenty dollars a day to the hand. There is plenty of room for good miners on the North Fork.

LATEST TELEGRAMS CONDENSED

TRYING TO OUST BEECHER.

Rumors have recently been afloat that Beecher is to be retired from Plymouth church. These rumors are denied almost officially. The World says one reason is that of Beecher's attitude during the recent campaign. Another fact is that the divine is rapidly nearing the age of four score and therefore will soon be unable to fulfill many of the duties demanded by such an exacting congregation. Still, others, it is said, are determined to dispense with Beecher's services because rumors are afloat that he is bankrupt.

MINISTER RIDLEY COMING HOME.

Minister Ridley is expected to arrive in New York within a few days. He sailed for home on the 15th inst.

STOPPED SENDING GOLD COIN.

The publicity given to the fact that U. S. Treasurer Hall had resumed the transfer of gold coin from San Francisco to New York by registered mail has again caused a suspension of that mode of transportation. It is not expected any more gold will be sent through the mails for some time.

THE "PALL MALL GAZETTE'S" EXERCISE.

The Tribune's cablegram says: Respectable papers in London continue to publish letters protesting unavailingly against the unchecked sale of obscene publications in the streets of London. The bishop of St. Davis speaks out and declares that the action of the Gazette constitutes perhaps the gravest offense against public decency and morality ever committed in an even nominally Christian country.

REVOLTING TRAFFIC IN GIRLS.

The results of the Pall Malla Gazette's agitation are visible all over Great Britain and the continent. Reports of outrages upon females in France, Germany and Italy have so increased that the French government has instructed its police to exercise additional stringency toward licensed houses. In Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Hamburg and other points, houses of this character have been visited by the police and all their female inmates have been ordered out unless certified to be 18 years old or over. Reports via the English consulate at Jassy, on the white slave trade between Roumania and other parts of Europe, state that girls gathered together at Jassy are chiefly sent to Prussia, Austria and Russia. The leading traders' depot is at Odessa. German girls gathered at the Prussian frontier are exported to Riga or Wilna, where Russian merchants have the first opportunity of selection for St. Petersburg and Moscow. The next best paying station is Nijni Novgorod, whence girls are distributed between Southern Russia and Siberia.

TALMAGE IN EDINBURGH.

Rev. Dewitt Talmage preached in Square Hall, at Edinburgh, Scotland, on Sunday. Over twenty thousand people were present and listened attentively to the discourse. Great difficulty was experienced in getting into the hall. After preaching indoors Talmage was compelled to preach out doors.

STALE BUNS IN LONDON, ONT.

At a grand street parade and jubilee held in London, Ont., by the Salvation Army, Captain Inman and wife were egged and an attempt made to prevent them from going up into their hall. In the scuffle Captain Inman struck a young man on the head, for which he was arrested and taken before the mayor.

Empress Frederic Joseph started on Tuesday to meet the Czar of Russia. His departure was unattended by any incident of note, he declining military escort.

Commendable Features.

One feature about Robinson's Circus that is especially worthy of being mentioned, is the uniform courtesy shown by every person connected with the concern, from the proprietor down to the hostlers, to each other and to the public with whom they come in contact. The gentleman whose special province it is to capture reporters and other Bohemians and carry them off bodily to the lions' den, is named Steele. Among the many successes of the remarkable combination, there are few if any more successful than Steele. He was created especially for the sphere he moves in, and one would scarcely be complete without the other. The common opinion as to the character of the men and women who generally form a circus troup is not in all cases correct, and the actors and managers of the ring of Robinson's mammoth company, speaking of them as a whole, is the best evidence that public opinion is sometimes most absurdly and ridiculously astray in the verdicts it pronounces.

Boring for Oil.

The Tacoma Oil Company having finished the construction of their derrick, placed their boiler and engine and thoroughly adjusted all of their machinery, began boring for oil on Saturday at 1:30 o'clock p.m. Several hundred spectators were present, a considerable number traveling from Tacoma and quite a number hailing from Puyallup. The plant and works and remarkable surface indications of this company are located on what is known as Van Ribber's farm at Ellid, distant from Tacoma by the wagon road about fifteen miles. Gen. Squire made a lengthy speech.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

MANITOBA is the only Province in which "the moulds of the fate that shape the State" are not ballots. There is open voting there, but as both parties favor the ballot the Province will doubtless shortly be brought into line with the rest of the Dominion, open voting being abandoned.

SOON the American bison will rank with the ichthyosaurus and the dodo. This season's shipment of robes from Wolf Point, Poplar River and Berthold—a few years ago sources of immense supply—consisted of one bale, in which were three and a half full robes, two splits and four calf skins. At Winnipeg there may be 1,000 robes in store, held over from last season, and they represent Canada's total.

ADVERTISING to the Oriental and Australian trade the Montreal Gazette says: A line of steamers from Vancouver to Australia would be able to do a great deal more than carry mails. They would no doubt be the means of building up an important trade between that distant country and the Dominion, from which the inhabitants of both would derive many benefits. The mere mention of the Canadian Pacific in such a connection is a proof of its growing importance in the eyes of the world.

THE editor of the Pall Mall Gazette has followed up his exposure of the immoralities of London by objecting to the age clause in the Criminal Bill, on the ground that it would interfere with the "vested rights" of girls under eighteen who have already fallen. This cynicism has shocked the moral sense of the community, and well it might if seriously urged. But it is quite possible that the editor of the Gazette is directing a bit of stinging irony at those who claim compensation for vested interests in other directions, should their trade be declared illegal.

THE British Conservatives profess confidence of success at the coming elections, because they believe that the rural district will retain their present political preferences. The newly enfranchised laborers are, however, being reminded that ten years ago, when they held meetings on the highways in favor of extending the franchise, the Tory clique in their constituencies arrested the leaders, and put them in jail on a charge of obstructing the highways. Facts like these the farm laborers are being asked to consider, and the result cannot be doubtful.

THE members of the Canadian Press Association were royally entertained in New York. The Journal thus refers to them: Editors are always welcome to our shores, especially Canadian editors. Our brethren across the fugitive line are the very soul of amiability, as their ladies are of beauty. Boojum snarks are unknown in Canada, and one editor would as soon think of calling another a bald-headed bank cashier as of starving the office cat. There is nothing which American editors will not do to make their Dominion brethren happy. They will even sit around the exchange crematory with cigarettes in their lap "and munch, and munch, and munch." Another paper announces that the Canadian press men can bring back to the bank cashier contingent the cheering news that Wall street is still in the same old spot.

AN ingenious mode of smuggling was discovered by the Custom officials at Hull, England. While some supposed heavy balks of timber were being unloaded from a ship by means of a crane, one balk struck the quay with such force as to split it open sufficiently to show that it had been hollowed out and the space filled with tobacco and cigars. A Customs officer being on hand at the moment immediately placed the crew under arrest and seized the cargo. It was found that all the balks on board the ship contained similar articles. So neatly was the work of concealment done that had it not been for the accident in swinging the balks on the crane the goods would have escaped the watchful eyes of the government detectives and an immense sum would have been realized by the sale of the contraband articles, as several tons of stuff were seized and the Customs' duties are heavy. The cargo was consigned to a firm in Canada.

BRITISH POSTAL SERVICE.

The thirty-first annual report of the British Postmaster-General, just published, shows a continued growth in many of the branches of the postal service. The annual increase in letters to each person in the kingdom is from 15 in 1854 to 38 in 1885. Including post-cards, the average per person was 42, a far larger proportion than in any other country. The number of postoffices in the United Kingdom increased by 483, making the total number 16,434, of which 919 are head offices. 773 letter-boxes have been added, bringing the total number of receptacles of all sorts for letters up to about 33,000. The total number of permanent officers is about 48,000, the number added during the year having been 1906. The number of females included in this total is 2019. The number of letters, post-cards, newspapers, &c., received in the Returned Letter Offices was 5,-626,875, showing a decrease of 1-8 per cent over the previous year. Of this total 512,636 letters were unreturnable; and of 26,472 letters which were posted without any address whatever, 1686 contained value to the total of £3898. Upwards of 45,000 parcels could not be delivered, owing chiefly to insecure packing and incomplete addresses. In Britain, as in Canada, the business of the P. O. Savings bank continues to develop. The total amount due to depositors on the 31st of December last was £40,773,773, an increase of £3,004,965 over the previous year. The deposits were 6,468,707 in number and £14,510,411 in amount. The amount of interest credited to depositors was £1,025,117, being an increase of £69,206 over the previous year. The daily average of deposits was 21,107, amounting to £47,420; and of withdrawals 7,147, amounting to £38,468. The average amount of each deposit was £2 4s. 11d., and of each withdrawal £5 14s. The number of new accounts opened during the year was 774,268, and 546,235 were closed, as compared with 772,201 accounts opened and 525,535 closed in 1883. The inland money orders issued last year were upwards of 11,900,000 in number, and £23,500,000 in amount; the decrease, as compared with the previous year, being 1,826,605 in the number and £1,475,418 in amount. The increased facilities afforded by the provisions of the Act affecting postal orders, passed in 1883, and the reduction of the rates of commission have contributed to the rapid development of the branch of business; and the total number of orders paid last year was 18,831,164, amounting in value to £7,884,847, as compared with 12,286,556 orders, amounting to £5,028,663, in 1883-84.

The telephone is interfering with the telegraph service, that branch showing but little development during the year, the increase in messages being only 435,000, a result that cannot by any manner be regarded as satisfactory. The expenditure was largely increased, exceeding the revenue by some £20,000, making a total chargeable to capital account of £326,417. The royalties paid by 27 telephone exchange companies amounted to only £19,360. At Liverpool, in January last, some person wrote a letter containing 26 words on the back of a penny stamp, which was committed to the post and duly delivered. The success achieved led to a repetition of the experiment, but on a third attempt being made with a halfpenny stamp the diminutive document became liable to a charge of one penny as an insufficiently prepaid letter, a penalty which was duly enforced.

ANOMALIES IN TRANCONTINENTAL FREIGHTS.

The recent tea shipment from Hongkong and Yokohama to the eastern markets, via San Francisco and Tacoma, has caused much discussion in commercial centers as well as journalist comments. In discussing the question the San Francisco Chronicle says: "This is the tea for carrying which across the continent the Southern Pacific of Kentucky and its eastern connections got $300 a car, though they profess that they cannot carry fruit in fast freight trains from San Francisco to Chicago at $400 a car without losing money, $600 a car being the rate now charged. Public indignation at this last performance of the railway monopoly is so marked that Mr. PICKERING's morning paper feels impelled to come to the defense of its railway friends. It publishes what purports to be an interview with a tea merchant, who declares that he is perfectly satisfied with the treatment he is receiving from the railway company. Some people are easily satisfied. Probably the tea merchant in question does not care to do business. If he did he could hardly be satisfied with a California company which, by the adoption of discriminating rates, makes it cheaper for a merchant in Kansas City or Denver to buy in New York teas which have been imported via San Francisco, than to buy them here. He says it costs "almost as much" to bring tea from Japan to San Francisco as to send it to New York via San Francisco. The merchant is not posted. It costs more. If he were in active business he would know that the Southern Pacific of Kentucky will contract to deliver Japan tea in New York via San Francisco, for 1¼ cts. per pound, which is less than the Pacific Mail Company will charge him for carrying the same goods from Yokohama to this port. He seems to be as ignorant of geography as he is of the tea trade. He pretends that the low rates at which contracts are being made by the Pacific railroads are due to the competition of the Suez canal route, which almost circumnavigates the world, whereas every one knows that they were adopted to head off the competition of the Northern Pacific. The merchant scouts the idea that "the Central Pacific Company is working against its own interest by bearing down upon the interests of San Francisco." But it is for all that. Of course it is the interest of the railway to build up instead of pulling down San Francisco. But it has not wit enough to see where its own interest lies. In its mad jealousy of a new competing line, it deals a deadly blow at its chief entrepot, and in so doing cuts off its own nose. It is with tea as with fruit. It is clearly the interest of the railroad to build up the fruit industry of this State, so as to create a large traffic at a season when other transportation business is dull. But it is impossible to convince the railroad magnates of this. They give the fruit men a cold shoulder. They declare they cannot carry fruit to Chicago in fast trains for $400 a car, though they can carry tea to New York in the same trains for $300. The consequence is that the fruit men are discouraged and the planting of fruit trees is checked. What is the good of growing fruit if the railway is to take all the profit of the operation?

THE customs department is stated to have given its decision in the extensive seizure of imported colors for undervaluation made in Montreal some time ago by the appraiser. The extra duty is called for and 50 per cents. of the full duty as a fine is imposed besides.

CHOOSING A BOOKKEEPER.

A Commercial Traveler Tells of an Examination He Overheard.

[L. L. Long in The Judge.]

Before leaving St. Paul for Omaha, I felt it to be my duty as well as pleasure to call on my friend Bugby to bid him good-by. I did so, and found him questioning a cadaverous youth who had called in answer to an advertisement for an assistant bookkeeper, as Mr. B. afterward told me. The following examination was going on:

"Can you keep books?"

"Yes, sir; pretty well."

"Well, sir, here is a test question: Suppose you enter a number 10 Mfr. which I have bought for cash. Of course your sales-book, in which purchases are originally entered, must balance with bills receivable. Now, if, in taking off your trial balance, you find you have an error, would you look for it in petty cash or check up your order book?"

"I'm sorry, Mr. Bugby, but in school no such questions were ever propounded, and I can't answer the question."

"It is wonderful, Lang, how unpractical in many respects these commercial academies are," remarked Bugby, turning to me with a wink and then re-addressing the youth:

"Your general education, I presume, is good, young sir, although you are not an expert bookkeeper, and you know something of geography."

"I have a superior education, Mr. Bugby."

"I am glad to hear it. Name, then, the nearest point in Canada which a traveler can reach if he leaves St. Paul between two days; also state the route by which he should arrive."

"I'm afraid, sir, that I'll have to look that up."

"Yes, I think you had better, if you expect to be promoted in time to the desk of cashier. That is the first bit of knowledge an office man should acquire. Another point: you are familiar with Shakespeare's works?"

"Oh, yes, sir; perfectly."

"Give me, then, the name of the play in which this line occurs: 'Peanuts is peanuts, Rebecca.' Isn't it Romeo and Juliet?"

"Undoubtedly, Mr. Bugby."

"Do you recall the beautiful lines:

'Oh! to be wafted away
From this black Alcedama of sorrow,
Where the dust of an earthy to-day
Is the earth of a dusty to-morrow.'"

"They occur in the Act I. of 'Midsummer Night's Dream,' do they not?"

"They certainly do, Mr. Bugby."

"Then let me compliment you on your superior attainments. Are you familiar with Richard Brinsby Sheridan's opera, 'An Admless Eden,' and do you recall the cathedral scene in the sixth act, and the archbishop's invocation, commencing with the beautiful words:

"'I'm awfully modest and awfully shy,
But for goodness sake, don't say I told you.'"

"I remember them clearly, Mr. Bugby."

"You do! Well, my lad, you won't suit. Vanish."

He vanished.

"Lang, that boy is a liar. I have no use for such. He makes the twelfth aspirant I have knocked out to-day. I'm becoming weary of this."

"Brace up, Mr. Bugby," I said encouragingly. "The next will be thirteen, which is ordinarily considered an unlucky number, but the latter takes everything in the deck. You twig?"

"Well, I'll come up for another round. Here's another. How are you, thirteen," he said to a bright-looking boy who at that moment entered.

"How are you, sir, only I'm 17. My name is William Gruhb. What's yours, please?"

"Bugby, at your service; Bugby, of Bugby & Roach, my young friend, what can I do for you?"

"Employ me, sir."

"Do you understand bookkeeping?"

"Not at all, sir; but I can learn."

"How do you know that?—but, never mind. Are you honest?"

"I don't know, sir. I think so, but I have never been tried."

"Boy, I'll engage you. Come to work tomorrow. Good day."

"Hold up, Mr. Bugby, I haven't engaged you yet. You have forgotten something, I think."

"Hold up, Mr. Bugby, I haven't engaged you yet."

"What's that, you young scamp!"

"What money will you pay?"

"Did you ever hear the like of that, Lang?" turning to me and then to the lad. "William, I start you at fifteen slugs per week. Will you consent?"

"It's a go, Mr. Bugby."

"Then shake on it, my boy."

"I'll tell you what, Lang," he said, when the new assistant bookkeeper had left, "ten years from now, if you happen to come this way, please notice the firm sign and see if it doesn't read: Bugby, Roach & Grubb."

A Little Bit of Heat Like.

[Philadelphia Call.]

Porterfield—I am getting very sick of the way the newspapers fill their columns with stories of the doings of prize fighters and the like.

Dangerthorpe—Yes, this morbid desire for such things is perfectly disgusting.

Jones—By the way, there goes John L. Sullivan up the street.

Both excitedly, "Where?" and rush into the street to gaze on the great Bostonian.

A Chilly Day With Algernon.

[Harper's Bazar.]

Algernon (who is seeing Angelina home from a lecture, detects an inclination on her part to walk more slowly as they near some ice-cream rooms, at which he turns up his collar and endeavors to quicken their united pace). "Ah! It's freezing, isn't it, Angelina?"

Angelina. "Oh, it's all frozen, Algernon, and ready to eat by this time!"

Losing Time.

[New York Sun.]

"My friend," said a clerical-looking gentleman on the front platform to the driver, "if you must use the word, why not say 'absolutely'?"

"I tried that word on the down trip," replied the driver, and I was ten minutes late at City hall."

From One Who Knows.

[Boston Post-Dispatch.]

His wife is the only person that believes all the lies a man tells.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Wrong, as usual. His wife is the only person who professes to believe all the lies a man tells. Between the two statements a vast gulf of feminine skepticism is fixed.

Advertising Cheats!!!

"It has become so common to begin an article, in an elegant, interesting style,

"Then run it into some advertisement that we avoid all such,

And simply call attention to the merits of Hop Bitters in as plain, honest terms as possible,

"To induce people

"To give them one trial, which so proves their value that they will never use anything else."

"THE REMEDY so favorably noticed in all the papers,

Religious and secular, is

"Having a large sale, and is supplanting all other medicines.

"There is no denying the virtues of the Hop plant, and the proprietors of Hop Bitters have shown great shrewdness and ability * * *

"In compounding a medicine whose virtues are so palpable to every one's observation."

Did She Die?

"No!

"She lingered and suffered along, pining away all the time for years."

"The doctors doing her no good,"

"And at last was cured by this Hop Bitters the papers say so much about;"

"Indeed! Indeed!"

"How thankful we should be for that medicine."

A Daughter's Misery.

"Eleven years our daughter suffered on a bed of misery.

"From a complication of kidney, liver, rheumatic trouble and Nervous debility,

"Under the care of the best physicians,

"Who gave her disease various names,

"But no relief.

"And now she is restored to us in good health by as simple a remedy as Hop Bitters, that we had shunned for years before using it."—THE PARENTS.

PUBLISHED EVERY AFTERNOON EXCEPT SUNDAY.

Victoria, Wednesday, August 26, 1885

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—Sir Francis Hincks was in his 78th year when he died.

—A good bird dog is wanted by a shooting party in the city.

—Before purchasing Real Estate or insuring your life, see Bland Bros.

—The Hermoine now discharging naval stores at Esquimalt, also has on board wire for the Island Railway telegraph.

—Mr. L. Goodacre yesterday received fifty-nine head of cattle from the mainland, per the Western Slope.

—Mr. Thos. M. Walters, a well known steamboat man on the Sound is now purser on the Anderson.

—The wires were in trouble to-day east of Portland, rendering chances of receiving press dispatches or commercial business slim.

—The plastering of the new theater is about finished. In a few more weeks this new temple of the muses will be ready for the reception of the public.

—Southern Oregon is showing up some fine looking gold quartz. The assays are not high, but the ledges are wide and apparently permanent.

—A Territorial form of government for Alaska is again being strongly agitated, and it is thought the agitation will result in securing such government.

—The sickness reported on board the Foralpeo, a bark found for this port turns out not to be of a contagious character. She is consigned to R. Ward & Co., and will arrive here in a few days.

—The anti-Chinese meeting called for last evening was slimly attended, and was consequently postponed for a time. The circus proved an attraction that could not be resisted even by the practical members of the league.

—Major E. T. Gunn, of the Olympia Transcript, is dead. He was buried on the 24th with Masonic honors. He has no relatives beyond a niece on this coast. The disposal of his property has not been decided upon.

—The George E. Starr brought freight for: A Cowan, A Leach, A Burns, A Gilmore, Belmont B & S Co, C P Miller, C Strauss, C Eckhart, D Spencer, D S Curtis & Co, D E Campbell, Fell & Co, F Chaperone, G C Maynard, H B Co, H Jewell, Henderson & Co, J Weiler, J B Ferguson, S Weston, J H Noble, J B Sabell, J Renswald, J Clayton, J Hewett, J Vair, J Ellard, Mathews, R & T, M Lenz, Marvin & T, M W Waitt, Neufelder & Ross, R Carr, R Dunsmuir, Royal C P Mills, R Beauchamp, S Leiser, T Dunn, T Earle, W H Redmond, W G Morris, W Denny, W Heathorn, W H Bennett, W Tinson.

The Restriction Act.

Instructions having been received from Ottawa, the Chinese Restriction Act was enforced to-day for the first time. The George E. Starr brought one Chinaman, and when Mr. Hunter demanded the sum of fifty dollars, John declined to pay. The captain of the steamer, being responsible under the law for the money, confined him in a room, so that he could not steal ashore while the vessel was at the wharf. John returned to south of the line on the same boat, "a sadder and a wiser man." Good bye, John.

The Capitol Mills, Salem.

Mr. George Shiel, of the Capitol Mills, Salem, was a passenger this morning to the mainland. He will return to the city to-morrow or on Saturday. The head office of Capitol Mills, which are the most extensive on the coast is in Edinburgh, Scotland, to which city and Glasgow a vast quantity of this famous branch is exported yearly. The roller process is the only system in vogue in these mills for preserving flour.

Found Dead.

A klootchman, aged about 45 years, variously known by the names of Lar-wat, Sally Cooper, and "Step-and-go-fetch-it," was found dead this morning by Sergt. Sheppard on the rock opposite the Telegraph Hotel. She was well known to the police as a hard drinker, and her death is no doubt due to that cause and to exposure. An inquest will be held.

Two Thieves Caged.

On the arrival of the New Westminster boat last evening, Officer Sheppard acting on a telegram that had been received, arrested two men named John Peck and Wm. Stokes, on a charge of stealing a silver watch from W. H. Rise. The watch was found on Stokes, but the chain was missing. The prisoners were in the police court this morning and were remanded until to-morrow to await the arrival of a warrant from New Westminster.

The Marquis of Queensberry.

The Marquis of Queensberry arrived in Victoria this afternoon and registered at the Driard. This gentleman has become distinguished in all English-speaking countries as the author of the rules which bear his name, for the government of contests in the prize ring. The Marquis has a son on the man-of-war Triumph. He will spend a short time in this city.

Postal Notice.

Mr. Wallace has given notice regarding the Australian and New Zealand mails, which will be found in another column. Correspondents should bear in mind that mail matter must be fully prepaid, otherwise it is consigned to the dead letter office.

A Distinguished Visitor.

Mr. Joseph Medill, editor of the Chicago Tribune, arrived in Portland on Sunday, and after being there a few days will come on to Victoria, where he will spend a few days. This is his first visit to the Northwest coast. He is accompanied by his wife and daughter.

The Kellogg Concert.

The plan for seats for the Kellogg Concert Co. will be open at the store of Messrs. J. B. Ferguson & Co. to-morrow morning. As there is likely to be a rush for the seats, those intending to go will do well to secure their seats early.

From the Sealing Grounds.

The sealing schooner Lookout arrived in port this morning from Behring's Sea. She brings a large quantity of skins, and reports the fleet in those waters as doing remarkably well this season. The catch of the Lookout will be between 1200 and 1500.

American Pilots.

Pilot McFarlane, of Port Townsend, who has been infringing for some years on the rights and privileges of British Columbia, was arrested to-day at the instance of the B. C. Pilot Association. His case will probably have a hearing to-morrow.

HAVE COSTAR BLACK SILKS. Exemplification value. Just received.

Chief Engineer Charles J. Phillips, Victoria Fire Department, is in the field for re-election next October.

ROBINSON'S CIRCUS.

A Splendid Show—Rare Menagerie and Wonderful Performances.

The people who attended the circus last night, and the management, have both cause for congratulation at the result. The seating of the enormous pavilion, although calculated to accommodate from 3500 to 4000 people, was none too large to hold the vast crowd that filled every nook and corner. On the other hand, the varied entertainment that was presented—three separate and distinct acts being performed in the circus tent at the same time—and the rare and interesting collection of strange animals in the menagerie, was of such an excellent character as to give universal satisfaction. The best circus possibly that any person ever witnessed—the one that contained the most daring bare-back riding, the finest tumbling, the strongest man, the most thrilling trapeze exploits, and the funniest clown—was the first one. The impression left on the minds, after witnessing for the first time so many wonderful things, was not only indelible, but it was monopolizing in its tendency, and subsequent performances, although perhaps superior in every respect, were always spoken of as secondary in importance. "All circuses are alike" is a more general remark than it is a truthful one, for there be circuses and circuses, and John Robinson's is of the latter class.

Entering the canvas, the first tent was found to contain five elephants, large and small, of the African and Asiatic species. One of these massive brutes is said to be a century and a quarter old, and the largest and heaviest weighs nearly four tons. There are besides in this tent, sacred cattle from Hindostan, a camel, dromedary, an amphibious buffalo from Africa, a three-horned ox, and a mammoth ox and horse.

The menagerie tent proper comes next, and is a large pavilion, containing the wild beasts and birds. Beginning at the entrance to the circus tent, and proceeding around the amphitheater of wagons to the right, the visitor will see some rare specimens of the animal kingdom. The South American tapir, South African fat-tail, four-horned sheep, which tradition and history says feeds upon its caudal appendage when a drouth parches vegetation; the sloth-bear, a curious cross between the sloth and the bear, whose native haunts are in the Arctic regions; the Australian kangaroo, American Rocky Mountain lion, cages of monkeys, laughing spotted hyenas from Africa, three magnificent lions, Royal Bengal tiger, Russian wolf hyena, cinnamon and Russian bears, cockatoos from South America, Montana antelope, Louisiana alligator, South America lama jaguar, yak of Tartary, African ibex, and the condor, the largest bird that flies, are here to be seen, most of them thoroughly domesticated, and all in splendid condition. The beautiful giraffe, the first one of the kind on Vancouver Island, proved the center of attraction. This timid, effeminate and voiceless creature stands seventeen and a half feet from its hoofs to its horns, and is under the care and attention of an attendant, whose sole duties are to minister to its wants. The blood-sucking vampire of South America, the beautiful Burmese steer and the sacred cows of Hindostan, complete an exhibition of animal life that if ever before equalled has certainly never been excelled in quality and rarity.

The performance within the circus tent began precisely at the stipulated hour, and was kept up uninterruptedly in the two rings and on the stage between until ten o'clock. The only complaint that was heard from the highly amused spectators was that there was too much to look at, and if one attempted to keep an eye on each of the simultaneous performances he would undoubtedly become cross-eyed. The programme is not all riding and tumbling, like the old-fashioned circus; but is varied with wonderful feats on the trapeze, daring exploits in mid-air, remarkable exhibitions of strength, and laughable and remarkably intelligent performances by trained dogs. The last feature was alone worth the price of admission. A more graceful equestrian than Miss Josie D'Modd, a beautiful young lady of seventeen, or a more daring performer, on the wire than Zola are certainly not to be found in the profession. The Forepaugh family are also among the leading attractions, but there are so many features deserving of special mention that space forbids dealing with each individually. It can be recommended, without the slightest reservation, to every person, and all who desire to be amused and interested for a couple of hours should not lose the opportunity presented to-night, which will be the last of the season. The fastidious need not have the slightest compunctions of conscience, as nothing will be said or done to shock their feelings. No fakirs are permitted by Mr. Robinson to accompany his show, there are no vendors of lemonade or bad candy to annoy spectators. The performance to-night will begin precisely at 7.30, doors open at 6.30. The hour is fixed thus early in order that there may be plenty of time to conclude the full programme at a reasonably early hour.

Thinks it was "Gall."

The Oregonian thinks the Amity boys, in displaying several brooms and cheering lustily when on the way to the depot in Portland, showed considerable "gall." It says that "considering that they were badly beaten the first game, and won the second only with the assistance of the two most important players kindly 'loaned' for the occasion, the display of brooms was in questionable taste." Really, after the Portland boys were so generous as to loan two players, in place of equally good members of the nine who were unfortunately unable to play, and thus equalizing the sides, it is not courteous of our cotemporary to endeavor to debar the Amities of the natural feeling of jubilation, or to object to the expression of that feeling in the usual manner. "Loaning" the men was the generous act of a victor; snarling at the Amities because they indulged in a little harmless "crowing" is the ungenerous act of a sadly disappointed and defeated foe. The Portland ball players do not endorse the scribe's uncalled for observations.

San Francisco Ball Players.

Arrangements are in progress at Portland to bring up the Pioneer Base Ball nine. All details have been decided upon, after considerable correspondence, and terms agreeable to the San Francisco players have been arranged. A positive answer as to whether they will come is now awaited. If they come the programme will be as follows: A game with the Stars at the Oaks, Saturday, September 5th, and one with the Portlands on Sunday, the 6th, then go to Seattle and Victoria, returning to Portland Saturday, the 12th, and playing the Portlands, finishing the tour with a game with the Stars, Sunday, the 13th. Our boys will thus have this season one more field to conquer.

Big Jumping.

Mr. D. M. Sullivan, of St. Catharines, Ont., in that city on the 18th inst., lowered three records. In the hop-step and jump he covered 54 feet 7½ inches, beating the best American record by 2 feet 3 inches. In three standing jumps, without weights, he covered 31 feet 3½ inches, beating the best American record by one inch. In three standing jumps, without weights, he covered 32 feet 3 inches, beating the best record by two inches.

Passing Events.

Mr. Robert Holloway of THE TIMES Office is possibly one of the oldest of Canadian typos. He arrived in Montreal shortly after the rebellion of 1837. He was on the staff of the Pilot newspaper, established by the late Sir Francis Hincks, in 1845, in Montreal, and has been connected with newspaper life ever since. Montreal then was but a small city, while the Queen City of the West, Toronto, was known as "muddy little York." Chicago was unheard of, its site supposed to be an irreclaimable marsh. To-day its population is larger than that of Glasgow and Dublin combined. Mr. Holloway is still hale and hearty and considers himself good for a few more years of newspaper life.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

When will it End?

To the Editor of The Times.

SIR,—I observe on the programme for to-night's business in the council, the intention to vote another $200 of the citizens' money to Messrs. Heisterman and Croasdale. It is the decided opinion of a vast majority of the ratepayers that these gentlemen have already been amply paid for the small amount of work they so inefficiently performed, it being well known that Mr. Russell did most of the work. Well may it be asked when will this kind of work end?

RATEPAYER.

School Trustee Squabbles.

To the Editor of The Times:

SIR,—It must be evident to any one who takes the trouble to read the report of the meetings of the Board of School Trustees, that insubordination, of the most objectionable character, is being introduced into our public schools by the oft interference, &c., of the trustees with the teachers. At the present time it would seem difficult to say who is really going to run our public schools; whether it is to be the trustees, the teachers, the children with the complaints, or the parents of the children. If the teachers are continually to be at the mercy of what trustee this, or trustee that, has got to say the teacher's influence with the children in the future will have small weight. This continued direction of the trustees to the teachers is about as unwise as interference between husband and wife. The teacher in power ought to be supreme, and only in very exceptionable cases should the directing voice of the trustee be heard. At present there are two masters in the field. It cannot work satisfactorily, and the sooner the trustees comprehend it, and act accordingly, the better for the teachers, the children, the parents, all and everyone concerned.

AN OBSERVER.

Victoria, August 26.

NANAIMO NOTES.

Our Nanaimo correspondent writes that the "black diamond city" and its environs is almost lost in smoke. That there are bush fires to the north, south, east and west of the city.

The telegraph lines have been down for days at a stretch. The operator's efforts were incessant to maintain a service, but his efforts were futile. The fire extending along the line rendered it impossible to prevent falling timber from destroying the wires.

Water is scarce and very hard to obtain on account of the drought. The town well is locked by the corporation to store the now precious element.

The ship Astoria is ready for sea, coal laden, and will leave in tow of the Alexander. The bark Southern Chief commenced to load coal at the V. C. Company's wharf immediately on arrival, and intends to leave on Wednesday next with 2000 to 2500 tons of coal. The ship Belvidere arrived at Departure bay to load Wellington coal. The Empire will load coal on her arrival from San Francisco.

MARINE NOTES.

The Queen of the Pacific was detained at Port Townsend until this morning by the fog.

The bark Pacific Slope, from Australia, was towed into the roads by the Pilot last night. She will load at Moodyville for Sydney.

The bark Moltke from Liverpool for this port, with a general cargo, was seen by the Pacific Slope outside of Cape Flattery.

The Nor bk Jorsalfarer, Acapulco for Victoria put into San Francisco last week on account of illness among the crew, caused by impure water shipped at Acapulco, which in one instance developed into a case of fever, which finally proved fatal. The steamer Arabic was met while on the passage and a liberal supply of quinine was obtained and the disease was abated, having been nothing more serious than chills and fever, arising from impure drinking water and foul ballast. The vessel was visited by the quarantine officer, Dr. McAllister, shortly after coming into port and found to be in a healthy condition, as all of the crew were able to be at work. The bark is consigned to R. Ward & Co., of this city.

POLICE COURT.

(Before Messrs. Sharpe and McLean, J. P.'s.)

Donald Gillies, drunk; fined $5 and costs.

John Barry, an old vag, stealing a hat, the property of Wm. McGarr, Senate Saloon; three months at hard labor.

Ah Soo, stealing a clock; admitted to bail.

An Indian, in possession of liquor; remanded.

$1000 Reward.

One thousand dollars reward is offered for the recovery of the body of DR. RICHARD C. BRANDEIS, dead or alive. His age is 34 years, 5 ft. 7½ inches in height, slim build, black hair and beard, mustache dark complexion (sallow), dark-brown eyes, sickly appearance, long prominent nose. Wore a hunting case Waltham gold watch, No. 6801, 18 ct., nickle movement, E. T., with a wedding ring engraved inside, Aug. 23, 1881, also a peculiar signet ring. A photograph of the doctor may be seen at the U. S. Consulate in this city, and if he is in this city, or province, there is a good chance for some person to make one thousand dollars.
